

Join Madison Wisconsin's MadTownTall's annual Oktoberfest event, Saturday September 11, 2021, at the Bavarian Bierhaus <http://thebavarianbierhaus.com> at 700 W Lexington, Glendale, WI 53217 starting at 3pm with reserved tables. It has historically been well attended by Chicago, Madison and Milwaukee.

As President/webmaster/etc of the Tall Club of Milwaukee I'd wanted to turn this into a Gathering as defined by our club Treasurer, Barry Umbs, but given it's pretty late in the game and the hotels within walking distance of the event are getting pricey, I'm not sure how attractive the event would be.

If Ellen Bayer is able, since she's wanted to visit Milwaukee, I will host her (I live a mile from the park). I owe her for hosting me years ago. So perhaps TCI's tallest guy and gal will be here. Rumor is Jayne and Jim may be staying at Barry's. In lieu of not calling this a Gathering, if any people do get hotels and want to do anything semi-organized Friday night or Sunday, I can try to help coordinate.

Friday Sep 10 I'd recommend we converge upon the Bay Shore Shopping Center <https://thebayshorelife.com/> with a multitude of restaurants, stores, live entertainment and Total Wine and More <https://www.totalwine.com/> which hosts an incredible collection alcoholic beverages that blew me away the first time I visited. Saturday morning folks can tour the city, visit the lake front or the casino, drive with those of us with cars. Sunday morning I am suggesting brunch possibly at Milwaukee's best German restaurant, Mader's, <https://madersrestaurant.com/>.

People can fly into <https://www.mitchellairport.com/> , take the train or bus to <https://www.amtrak.com/stations/mke> or Lake Express <http://ridelakexpress.com>.

Hotels within walking distance of the Bavarian Bierhaus and Bayshore include the LaQuinta (priced around $150 last I checked) at 5423 and Motel 6 ($80) and 5485 N Port Washington Rd, Glendale, WI 53217. Kopp's Custard Stand <https://www.kopps.com/> is also here. Others within half a mile include:

LaQuinta Inn and Suites Hampton Ave (.3 miles south) 5110 N Port Washington Rd, Glendale, WI 53217

Holiday Inn is half a mile south 5485 N Port Washington Rd, Glendale, WI 53217
